A Partnership for Preservation

2025 Seasonal Position Announcement

NOMADS CREW APPRENTICESHIP

on BACKCOUNTRY TRAIL CREW - { $17.00/hr }

The Colorado Fourteeners Initiative (CFI) is a nonprofit organization working to protect and preserve the natural integrity of Colorado's 14,000-foot peaks through active stewardship and public education. www.14ers.org

CFI seeks to hire one Nicholas Feinstein Memorial Nomads Crew Apprenticeship to assist with leading CFI's Adopt-a-Peak volunteer groups on trail maintenance and restoration projects on Colorado's 14,000-foot peaks. This apprenticeship is an excellent opportunity to gain experience in outdoor group leadership skills, trail maintenance, and alpine restoration. The apprentice is essentially the fourth crew member on each of the Nomads crews. The position is named after Nicholas (Nick) Isadore Feinstein. Nick was a senior at the Pennsylvania State University studying Enterprise Technology Integration in the College of Information Sciences and Technology. He died in an avalanche while skiing with his father in Colorado on December 31, 2022. He was to begin working at a finance and technology company in Denver after graduating and received his degree posthumously in the spring of 2023. He was 22 years old.

Nick was a talented, smart, thoughtful, funny, and genuinely caring human being. He had a driven and adventurous spirit, and from a young age demonstrated a deep curiosity and passion for life. Always the outdoorsman, he spent as much time as possible skiing, mountain climbing, fishing, and exploring. He had climbed 25 of Colorado's 14ers and planned to climb them all. Nick was also an excellent technologist, chef, gamer, and soccer player. And he loved his cat, Bella.

Lessons learned from Nick:

- Keep a sense of adventure in your heart. Experience the world around you. Play. Enjoy life. Try something new and out of your comfort zone. Learn to be present.
- Regularly experience nature and the outdoors. Colorado is one of the most amazing states in the country. Enjoy what this beautiful State has to offer. Go for a hike to view the wildflowers, smell the trees and earth, and spend time by a stream seeing how the water flows over the rocks. Nick also loved the ocean. Explore a secluded beach and go rock and shell hunting, spend time in the waves, maybe go fishing.
- Be kind. Be thoughtful and caring to others. Empathize. Keep love and compassion close to your heart.

POSITION INFORMATION

CFI's Nomads crews work with volunteer groups throughout the course of the season on a wide variety of trail projects. This position is a fantastic opportunity to get out and see many different parts of Colorado's mountains as it will take you all over the state! Volunteer groups vary from working professionals to high school students to outdoor club members. The Nomads crews consist of two separate four-person crews. One Crew Leader, two crew members and one apprentice make up each crew. The Nomads crews will spend about 70% of their days in the field with volunteer groups and 30% without volunteers and working with just their CFI crew.

Under the mentorship of each crew, the apprentice will receive training in leading volunteers in an outdoor/backcountry setting, trail maintenance, and alpine re-vegetation/restoration techniques. Apprentices will camp during all work hitches (sometimes front-country, sometimes backcountry). The work is physically demanding and is performed at high altitude in a backcountry environment. This position begins in late May and runs through late September and is based out of Twin Lakes, CO. For more information on the Nomads crews, visit <http://www.14ers.org>

The Nicholas Feinstein Memorial Nomads Crew Apprenticeship is designed as an entry level position with CFI. It's for those who graduated from a related field of study, and/or have only minimal related work experience, and/or have an interest working in the conservation field but don't yet have any experience. Relevant programs of study include natural resources, outdoor education/leadership, ecology, botany, environmental science, environmental studies, forestry, etc.

ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

- The Feinstein Memorial Apprentice will work primarily on two types of projects:
 1. Primary responsibility: Coordinate with the Crew Leader to assist with leading volunteer projects on trail maintenance and alpine restoration projects throughout the Colorado Rockies.
 2. Secondary responsibility: Working as a member of a 4-person trail crew to carry out high-priority, high-elevation trail maintenance projects when not working with volunteer groups.
- Project site responsibilities with volunteer groups include:
 1. Train, supervise, and engage volunteers in project tasks
 2. Oversee safety and project site goals
 3. Carry out education/outreach responsibilities, including educating volunteers and hikers on Leave-No-Trace and alpine ecology
- Assist with day-to-day operations of Nomads crew and trail maintenance projects, including logistical planning (travel planning, tool preparation), health and safety, interaction with the public, and tool/equipment maintenance
- Present a positive, motivating attitude for volunteer groups
- Work as a positive, pro-active member of your Nomads crew
- Other tasks as assigned

WAGES AND BENEFITS

$17.00/hour.

Benefits Include:

- $30/day per diem for field days
- Up to $400 Gear Allowance
