Come work on Colorado's highest peaks! CFI seeks to hire four trail crew member positions that work with volunteers to implement CFI's trail maintenance and alpine restoration projects on Colorado's 14,000-foot peaks. This is an engaging, yet challenging position based out of Colorado's rugged backcountry. This position requires a strong trail work skillset; conservation ethic; excellent leadership, logistical, and team skills; experience leading and managing volunteers; and a desire to work in a challenging yet beautiful backcountry setting. Come and join CFI this summer!

Nomads Crew Members assist with project planning and logistics, project prep and implementation, and provide education, training, and supervision to volunteers. When not leading volunteer groups, the Nomads crews will work on trail maintenance projects as part of a four-person crew. Roughly 70% of the total field days throughout the season will be spent with volunteers and 30% without and working with their CFI crew only. Each Nomads crew will work on 5 different peaks all over Colorado throughout the season. Crew Members are expected to work together with their Crew Leader and the Apprentice to implement volunteer trail maintenance projects. The Nomads crews will camp during all work hitches (sometimes front country (car) camping and sometimes backcountry camping (backpacking)). For more information on the Nomads crews, visit <http://www.14ers.org> This position begins in late May and runs through late September and is based out of Twin Lakes, CO.
